The height of our ambition is to make this volume of HACAUA a cherished record and memento of our happy college days, and to produce for the student-body a memorial of its life spent in the Halls, on the Campus, and within the Walls of old Lenoir. If, when the days have lengthened into golden years, this book shall help you to recall the memories of the past, we shall feel that our efforts have been duly rewarded. In all humility, and with all respect, we present this volume of

The College

LOOKING BACKWARD

CONCORDIA HIGH SCHOOL was established at Conover, N. C., in July, 1877, by the Lutherans of western North Carolina. This institution was converted into a college and chartered as Concordia College in 1881 by an association of pastors and congregations of the Lutheran Tennessee Synod. Synod took the college under its care in 1883, and it remained in this relation till 1892. Dr. R. A. Yoder was principal of Concordia High School, and then for about ten years president of Concordia College.

In 1890, the beautiful site now occupied by the college was offered to the Lutherans by Col. J. G. Hall, special trustee for Capt. Walter Lenoir, but was not accepted. Early in 1891, four pastors—Rev. A. L. Crouse, Dr. J. C. Moser, Dr. W. P. Cline, and Dr. R. A. Yoder—supported by a large following of substantial laymen, accepted the offer of Colonel Hall. The new college was opened in the Highland Academy building on the campus, September 1, 1891, as Highland College.

The institution was incorporated January 4, 1892, as Lenoir College, in honor of Capt. Walter Lenoir, who had deeded to his trustee, Col. J. G. Hall, the large campus and thirty-eight acre lots adjoining for such purpose. Prof. R. L. Fritz, then a young man, was a co-worker with the “Big Four” in all this work of founding the college.

In 1895, the Lutheran Tennessee Synod took under its care Lenoir College as its institution; and in August, 1899, it assumed the financial obligation of the current expenses of the college.

Dr. R. A. Yoder was president of the college from 1891 to 1901. During his administration, the main building was erected, the institution was given foundation, policy, and character, and great good was accomplished in the education of a large number of young men and young women for superior service in home, church, and state. Only the Lord and a few intimately associated with the “Big Four” will ever really know the full measure of hard toil, sacrifice, and devotion yielded this college by these faithful men. Lenoir College is and shall be, because Cline, Yoder, Crouse, Moser, and Fritz labored as they did and when they did.

Dr. R. L. Fritz, an alumnus, was president from 1901 to 1919. During his administration, the material equipment, attendance, and teaching force were much increased, courses broadened, standard raised, methods improved, and a name and place won among the colleges of the State and country. Successful departments of music, art, voice, expression, and business were established, and much equipment along these lines and for the library and laboratories was secured. Three large rooms of the main building were finished, and a new front added. In 1902, Oakview Hall for women was erected; in 1909, it was enlarged. In 1907, Highland Hall for men was erected; in 1907-8, St. Andrews, the college church, was erected; in 1912-13, the Yoder Science Building was erected and equipped, and steam heating plants installed.

It would be impossible to over-estimate the importance of the erection and equipment of these buildings in the growth and development of the college. Early in the administration of Dr. Fritz, our graduates were admitted to the senior class at our State University, and were graduated in one year. In 1910, after our standard had been raised and faculty strengthened, our graduates were admitted without examination to graduate work in Carolina and other universities. In 1915, Lenoir College was rated one of the ten A-grade colleges of our State by the educational authorities of the State.

In 1915-16, an endowment of $50,000 was raised by President Fritz, assisted by Mrs. R. A. Yoder.

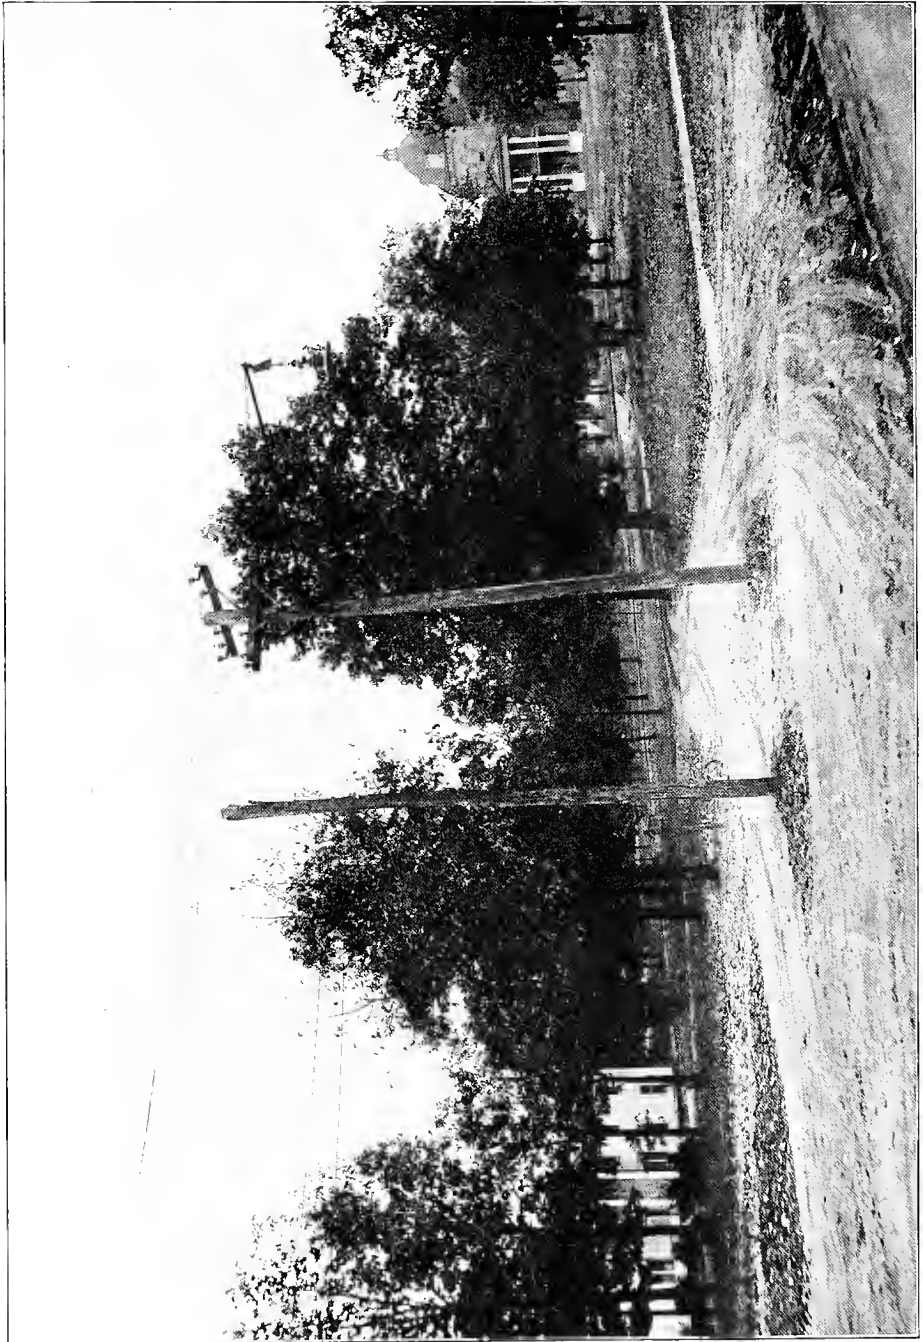

In March, 1919, President Fritz resigned, and was recalled as professor of mathematics and astronomy. He continued in charge of the college till January, 1920. During this eighteen-year period, the college was practically self-supporting; the teachers, being greatly overworked and underpaid, still constituted the endowment. For six of these years no appropriation was received from Synod, and the amounts received for the other years were little more than the interest and equipment costs paid by the college. The average yearly enrollment for this period was 270. The number of students enrolled to date is 4,043, and the total number of graduates 450.

In the fall of 1919, a campaign for a real endowment was launched, and at the end of two months the goal reached was $310,000. This meant a new lease on life, and a hopeful future for the college.

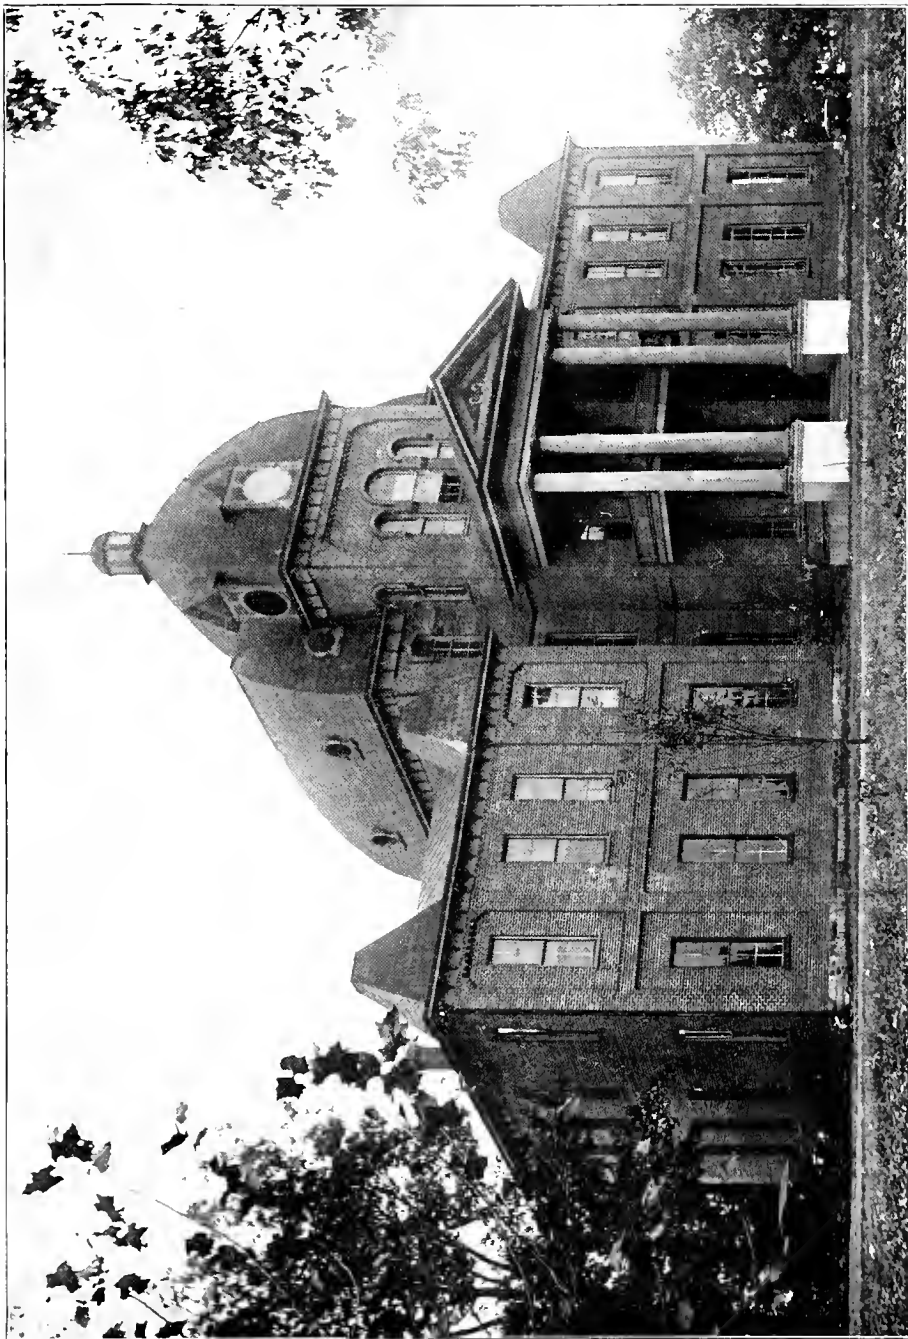

In January, 1920, Dr. John C. Peery took charge as president, and a new era in the history of the college dawned most auspiciously.

LOOKING FORWARD

HE WHO plans for the future is often considered visionary. Yet those things which afterwards become substantial developments have been first visualized in somebody's imagination. Even at the expense of being considered visionary, therefore, in this forward look for our college, I expect to record a few of the things which we are now seeing only in our minds, but which will surely be realized in the not distant future. These "visions" which shall here be recorded have already been seen by many others who are working for the development of Lenoir. They have been long in the mind of our beloved former president, whose labors have made possible the things which shall be.

In the very near future, those who visit Lenoir College will see a great change on the campus and around the present buildings. The most prominent part of the campus has been carefully cultivated and sown in Shady Park lawn grass. By commencement time, this lawn will have transformed the appearance of the campus. At considerable expense, the barren appearance of the buildings has been relieved by the work of a landscape gardener in setting suitable evergreen and flowering shrubs. Within the next few years, the appearance of the buildings will be greatly improved by these plantings. This improvement of the campus is to go on from year to year, until Lenoir shall have a beautiful campus thruout. These things are already being realized.

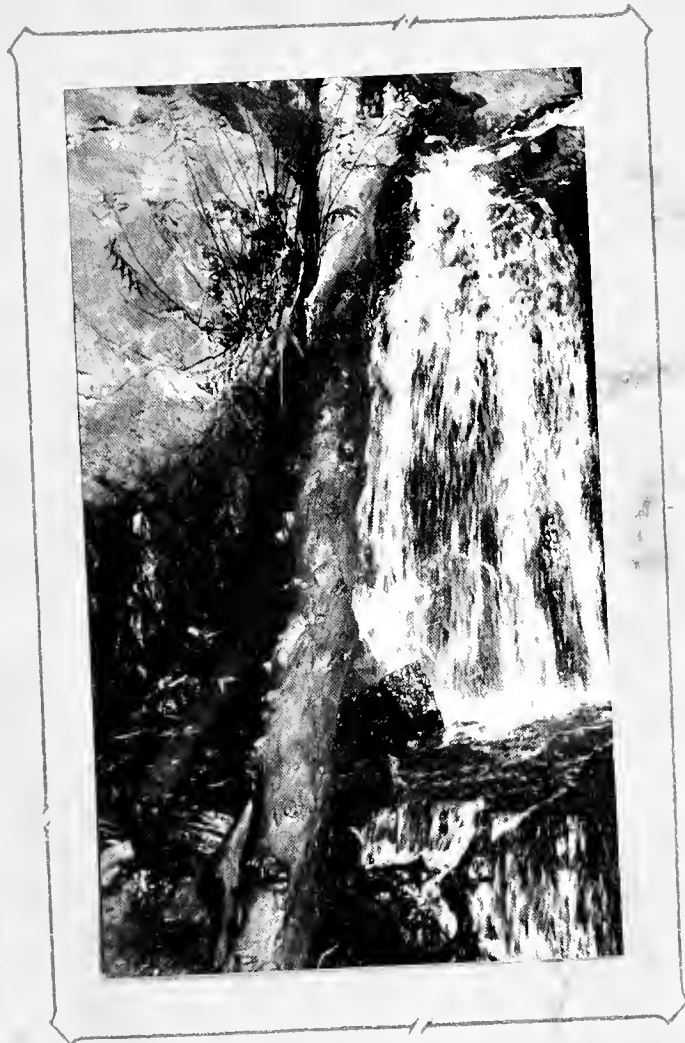

The building operations are still in the future. A building architect has been engaged, and has done considerable work upon a complete group plan of buildings. Within the near future, a number of these buildings will be erected. A new girls' dormitory, to take care of a hundred students, has been planned by the trustees, and its erection has been authorized by the Synod. This building will be erected just as soon as business conditions will permit, and will be located on the lower side of the campus, on Third Street.

Following the girls' dormitory, a library will be erected; then a gymnasium, with swimming pool; a fine arts building for the departments of vocal and instrumental music and expression, containing a large auditorium, with a real stage, and a seating capacity of from eighteen hundred to two thousand; a refectory; an infirmary; and a boys' dormitory. These buildings will be erected around the campus, forming a large quadrangle. Then, as they are needed, there will still be ample room on the campus for additional dormitories and other buildings.

This building program is not merely in the form of a hazy vision, but careful plans have already been laid looking to its realization in the near future.

Along with the material expansion of the college, plans have also been made looking to increasing the endowment of the institution to a total of not less than $800,000.00. The matter of increasing the endowment is not merely a thing to be desired, but it is a necessity. The expansion program cannot be carried forward without it. We are hopeful enough to believe that this necessity is also a possibility, and that it will become a reality in due time.

At the same time this expansion program is being developed, the enrollment of the college will be steadily increasing, until we shall have not fewer than from four to five hundred students in the collegiate department. With such an enrollment, Lenoir's day of enlarged service will really be ushered in. The college spirit will be intensified, and the proud name of our college will be carried upon the lips of many loyal sons and daughters of Alma Mater.

MARY EDNA ROOF, A. B.

PROSPERITY, S. C.

Age, 22; Weight, 114; Height, 5 feet 7 inches.

Entered '16; Eumenean; Vice-President of Society, '17; President of Society, '18; Vice-President of Society, '19; Member of Lenoirian Staff, '20-'21; President of Society, '21.

"It is great happiness to be master of the means conducive to our aims."

We will most pleasantly remember EDNA as a worthy, honored, and admired student-friend. She has shared with us the happiness as well as the struggles of our college life. She is a girl who possesses a genial spirit and an irresistible determination. She is one of the most punctual members of our Class. She must be highly congratulated for her willingness to work. In her you find true womanhood. We will miss EDNA when we separate, but from her, the model of the Class, we have learned many a valuable lesson. She proposes to teach.

DAVID WILLIAM BARRON COON,
A. B.

LINCOLNTON, N. C.

Age, 23; Weight, 140; Height, 5 feet 8 inches.

Entered '17; Chrestonian; Secretary of Society, '18; Member of Student Commission, '19; Member of Honor Council, '20; Winner of Junior Orator's Medal, '20; Member of Glee Club, '21; President of Society, '21; Anniversary Orator, '21; President of Student Council, '20-'21; Class Poet, '21.

"My mind to me a kingdom is."

BARRON has been here four years. He is kind, generous, good-natured, and always willing to serve. If some necessary work is to be done around the college, he is always called. Sometimes he is very pessimistic, but again this pessimism is converted into optimism. He uses his influence to preserve peace, order, and tranquility.

BARRON has pronounced oratorical ability. He is a good student, and when he knows a thing he is filled with eagerness until he releases it by telling it. He is never backward in expressing his views. As yet he does not know just what he will do after graduation. He is very much interested in the problems of education, and if he should choose that field of work, we feel sure he will carve out a successful career.

NAOMI ALLIENE ROOF, A. B.

MORGANTON, N. C.

Age, 21; Weight, 117; Height, 5 feet 4 inches.

Entered '17; Eumenean; President of Society, '17; Assistant Instructor in Biology, '19-'20; Winner of Math Medal, '20; Assistant Instructor in the Preparatory Department of Math, '20-'21; HACAWA Diarist, '21.

"Beauty lives with kindness."

NAOMI is the most kindly disposed member of our Class. She is sound in character, stable in disposition, and positive in thought. She is always cheerful and unassuming, and meets everybody with a searching look and a friendly smile. Her indomitable spirit of perseverance is able to meet and successfully cope with all obstacles. Her fine regard for duty, her positiveness in thought and action, coupled with her keen desire for the accumulation of facts, is a sure guaranty of true success. She expects to teach. We feel sure that she will have success and aspire to great things because she has done successful teaching while here.

LLOYD LAFAYETTE DEATON, A. B.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

Age, 26; Weight, 170; Height, 5 feet 11 inches.

Entered '15; Chrestonian; President Fresh-Soph Debate, '15; Scrub Debater, '16; With A. E. F. in France, '18-'19; Class Poet, '20; Vice-President Chrestonian Literary Society, '20; Editor-in-Chief of Lenoirian, '20; President Chrestonian Literary Society, '20; President of College Luther League, '20-'21; President of Student-Body, '20-'21; Business Manager of HACAWA, '21.

"There is nothing so kingly as kindness, and nothing so royal as truth."

"L. L." entered our Class as a Junior, his work being interrupted for two years on account of the war. He is an energetic, broad-minded young man. Being the oldest member of our Class, we naturally look to him for advice. He has pronounced executive abilities, and is an enthusiastic worker in all college activities. His work is characterized by exactness. He is cheerful, witty, and agreeable, and in him you find a genuine friend. He is highly respected and esteemed both by the student-body and faculty. The height of his unswerving ambition is to become a genius in Science, a profession for which his pleasing personality, common sense, and keen insight into human nature eminently fit him. With his conscientious habit of doing all experiments and research work with great conciseness, supplemented by actual experience, with his interest and inclination in that direction, we feel sure that success awaits him.

KATE ELIZABETH TOWNSAN,
A. B.

HICKORY, N. C.

Age, 18; Weight, 145; Height, 5 feet 7 inches.

Entered '16; Eumenean; Secretary of Society, '18; Treasurer of Society, '18; Vice-President of Society, '19; Vice-President of Junior Class, '20; President of Senior Class, '21.

"There is nothing so womanly as virtue."

KATE has been with the Class for five years. Tho the youngest member of the Class, yet she thinks beyond her age. She is loved and admired both by the faculty and students for her sincerity and open-heartedness. In her you find a true friend—one who can be depended upon. She is strong, both physically and mentally. She believes that lots of sleep will make one pretty—it seems to be true. She is jolly, sociable, optimistic; and rarely, if ever, do you see her angry or blue. She has a deep sense of duty; she is prompt and dependable. She has a receptive mind, and knows how to use it.

KATE is good-natured, industrious, energetic, broad-minded, and well fitted for the profession of teaching. We feel sure that with all these characteristics success awaits her.

WALTER RAY SCHAFF, A. B.

LEXINGTON, N. C.

Age, 23; Weight, 156; Height, 5 feet 9½ inches.

Entered '16; Euronian; Out of College, '17-'18; Re-entered, '18; In United States Army, S. A. T. C., '18; Scrub Debater, '19; President Junior Class, '19-'20; Secretary of Euronian Literary Society, '19; Editor-in-Chief of Lenoirian, '19; Secretary of College Luther League, '19-'20; Anniversary Debater, '20; Junior Orator, '20; President Society, '20; Secretary of Highland Hall Student Commission, '20-'21; President of Anniversary, '21; Editor-in-Chief of HACAWA, '21.

"Effort is the secret of attainment."

SCHAFF came to us in our Sophomore year. His college work was broken for one year—'17-'18; but his loss was our gain. To an observer he might appear somewhat formal, but below is a real man with a conscious purpose. He would rather serve than be served. He is a good student and a close observer, with keen executive powers and pronounced intellectual ability, which culminate in inventive originality and constructiveness. He is one of the few who knows the thoughts of others, but prefers to think his own.

Unbiased conceptions, self-control, strong convictions, seriousness of purpose, steady determination, systematic and unrequited effort, combined with his practical knowledge, have characterized his college days, and are the qualities which distinguish and most eminently commend him, we believe, to be one of the vital forces of tomorrow in the great field of profound theological reflection.

LILA FAY ROOF, A. B.

MORGANTON, N. C.

Age, 18; Weight, 112; Height, 5 feet 4 inches.

Entered '17; Eumenean; President of Society, '18; Treasurer of Society, '18; Member of Honor Council, '18; Exchange Editor of Lenoirian, '20; President of Class, '18-'19; Class Prophet, '21.

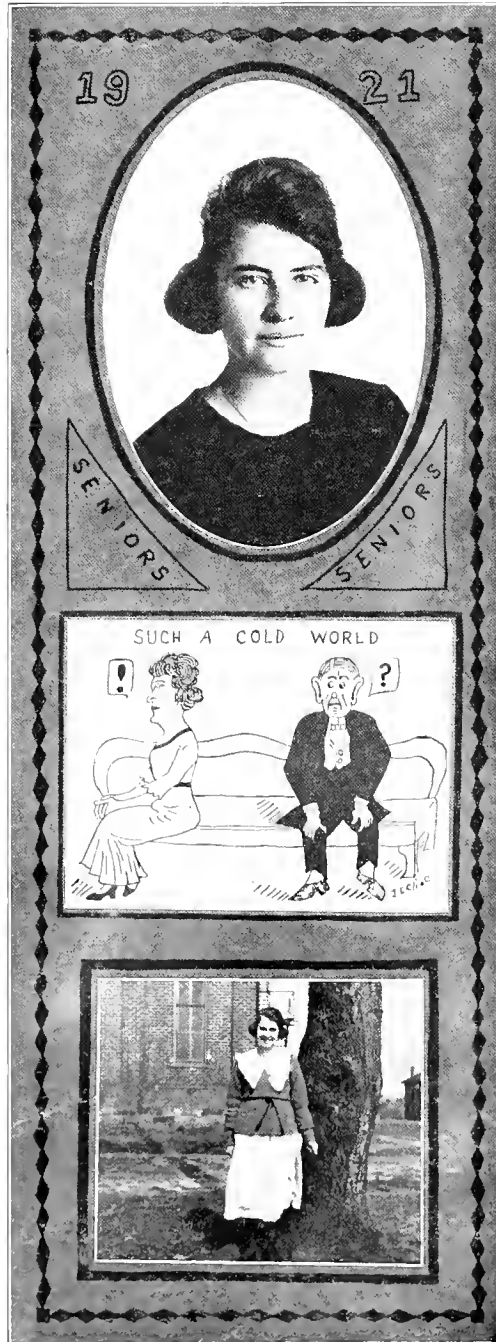

"Work is the law of life."

FAY is strong in character, modest in behavior, faithful to her friends, and shows herself to be a model student. She has been with us four years. Her work has been very commendable. She always looks on the bright side of life. She is congenial, and surmounts the seemingly "impossibles."

She, too, is faithful to her College—speaking a good word for it whenever the opportunity presents itself. She is a true daughter of the Eumenean Literary Society. She has chosen teaching for her profession. With her good nature, integrity, conscientiousness, and loyalty to duty, she will win success in her chosen field.

GEORGE BAKER COON, A. B.

LINCOLNTON, N. C.

Age, 22; Weight, 150; Height, 5 feet 10 inches.

Entered 17; Chrestonian; Member of Honor Council, '17-'18; Declaimer of Scrub Anniversary, '19; Orator of Anniversary, '20; Junior Orator, '20; President of Press Club, '20-'21; Secretary of Society, '21; Member of Student Commission, '20-'21; Assistant Business Manager of HACAWE, '21.

"We learn to do by doing."

"G. B." represents the spirit of jolly comradeship. He advocates fun, but does not permit it to assume the front of the stage. He is good-natured, kindly disposed, and consistent. In all things he is very optimistic, especially in social affairs. He has a profound feeling for others. His smile, congeniality, cheerfulness, and unselfishness command respect and admiration.

GEORGE is an active society worker. The C. L. S. places a heavy premium upon him because of his interest and natural oratorical ability. His adaptability is exceedingly noteworthy. He has tact and initiative. He is interested in Economics. He proposes to do graduate work in the State University. He will make a success as a business man. With him go our best wishes.

KATHRYN MARIE

WANNEMACHER, A. B.

HICKORY, N. C.

Age, 20; Weight, 127; Height, 5 feet 1 inch.

Entered '17; Philaethian; Secretary of Society, '19; Vice-President of Senior Class; President of Society, '20; Assistant Editor-in-Chief of HACAWA, '21.

"She hath done what she could."

KATHRYN has been with us ever since the joys and sorrows of college life began. Tho young in years, she is a really developed college woman. Small in stature, youthful and attractive in appearance, sunny and unassuming in disposition, yet profound in contemplation, she holds in her keeping a personality that cannot be evaded. Her natural ability, her keen power of intellectual perception, her copious talent in literary arts, and her indomitable will power are the qualities which place her among the first in the hearts of her fellow-classmen. There is some real worth in all she has to say. She is opinionated, confident, and voluble, tho solid and instructive. She is tireless and conscientious in labor, and her cheerfulness is constant and contagious.

There is a key to every woman's life and disposition. In this case, it is contained in the following words: "She delights to serve those about her, and to make them happy and content."

KATHRYN anticipates teaching, a work for which she is eminently qualified. We wish and predict for her a successful career.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

HERE are mountains that are high and necessitate much toil and effort to reach the top. But the highest and most seemingly unattainable one is the mountain of knowledge. After four years of patient endeavor to reach the top, we look back upon the past and remember very distinctly our beginning. We were conscious of the fact that we did not know anything; but we were willing to learn. Soon the sneers and jeers of the Sophomores ceased, and we went about our work in a dignified manner, with a determination to conquer. Never was there a Class more loyal in spirit than the Class which entered in 1917. This spirit has been maintained thruout our college career.

In September of the ensuing session, after many happy days of vacation, we came back to dear old L. C.—not as Freshmen, but as wise Sophomores. Our Class was greatly reduced on account of the war. After the S. A. T. C. was disbanded, several of its members came to our ranks. This year our Class was honored and respected by the Freshmen. Also we won the recognition of the upper Classes and the faculty. In classroom and society work we stood second.

By the next year our number had decreased to eleven. We had lost several of our classmates; but others, whom we gladly welcomed, amply filled their places. We had to lay aside some of our joys and pleasures—because we were Juniors. Sometimes our work seemed very heavy, but we did not lose courage nor repine—we worked the harder.

We are now passing thru the fourth year of our eventful journey. We know what it means to be “dignified Seniors.” Each succeeding year has found our Class growing smaller in number, and only nine are left. But as our Class has diminished in number we have been brought closer together as friends and comrades. Many of us have had our trials and handicaps, but in the spirit of patience we have faced them bravely and courageously.

Our Class has won many distinctions in oratory, debating, expression, and scholarship. It has also been well represented in literary work. We are now beginning to realize what life is with all its great responsibilities. May each of us, as we seek our life's vocation, choose only that which is high, noble, worthy, and good. Let each of us strive to make the Class of 'Twenty-One renowned.

—CLASS HISTORIAN

ROSE OF PINE RIDGE MOUNTAIN

OR

ENCHANTED GROUND

AR down the valley came the call of the whippoorwill. Twilight was quietly shutting the pine trees on the mountain from view. Shadows were darkening, and fireflies flitted about the masses of wild roses blooming on the ridge of the mountain.

Rose Benlow stood on the porch of her home, which was hid among the pines of the mountains and surrounded by clusters of wild roses from which she got her name. She resembled the wild roses as she stood in the shadows of the roses near the house. Her sparkling blue eyes were strangely wistful as she gazed out into the depths of the forest. She saw none of the quiet beauty of the woodland scene before her. She looked up at the sky, and saw the first star of the night beaming there.

"Star light, star so bright! Grant me my wish tonight," Rose chanted when she noticed the twinkling star.

"Star," she confided, "I want, Oh, so very much to go to college!"

The star shone brighter as if it understood her wish and her longing. Stars soon filled the sky, and over the edge of the mountain the moon rose.

"I'll go to the gray rock and see some more pictures of my beloved college," said Rose, when the moon had made her path clear.

Down the path and out of the gate she tripped, graceful as a flower, the wild rose. The pine grove to which Rose went was flooded with the silvery, enchanting light of the moon. Rose sat down upon a rock before a small opening in the woods. There was no sound to disturb the peaceful quiet except the occasional call of the whippoorwill in the valley below.

Rose often went to this place to get "inspiration and hope," as she told her mother.

"Oh, isn't it just wonderful?" Rose softly whispered to herself as in the clearing before her appeared a miniature college. There were eight stately buildings, three of which seemed to be comparatively new. It was spring, and the campus was "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Large oak trees were green with new leaves, grass covered the campus, tall shrubbery formed a background for the four bubbling fountains sending sprays of sparkling water high into the air. The curved roadways which led up to and around the buildings were made of cement and were lighted by electric lights, for it was night. At the entrance to the campus was a large marble slab bearing the following inscription: Lenoir College, Founded in 1892.

"That's so pretty it almost hurts," said Rose. The picture faded from view, and in its place came the picture of two men busily engaged in conversation. They were slowly walking down the street of an industrious city in the renowned State of Ohio.

"You are a Lutheran pastor here in the city, aren't you?" asked one of the men of the other.

"Yes," replied the other man. "Schaff is my name, Walter R. Schaff."

"Ah, yes," said the first man; "don't you remember me? Don't you remember the man you helped and befriended in Philadelphia when you were a student in the Seminary there? Don't you remember the man you found in the act of taking his own life because of guilt and despair?"

"Yes," answered the minister; "I remember that man. It was about forty years ago."

"I am that man," said the first speaker. "I shall never forget the new strength, hope, and courage you gave me. I left you with the resolution of living a man's life, and thank God thru you I have succeeded. My family and I are going to unite with your church, for we are living here. Our home is at 104 Brown Street. Come to see us when it is convenient. I want you to meet my wife and children, and see my home. All that I am and ever expect to be is and will be due to your influence and big-heartedness."

"Thank you, brother," said the minister, and the man shook his hand, gripping it tightly, and hurried toward his home.

"That is the joy of being a minister," said Schaff to himself, as he continued on his way to the magnificent church of which he was the pastor. "I recall the event vividly," said the minister to himself. "Let me see, I was graduated from Lenoir College in 1921. Then I taught two years in High School, and in 1924 I entered the Seminary at Philadelphia. It was during my last year in the Seminary that I was instrumental in saving that poor man's life from destruction."

At this moment Rev. Schaff entered the church. Here the picture faded.

"Now," said Rose, "I'll get to see all the members of the Class of 1921, for the pictures always appear in groups."

A mathematics room in one of the Southern Colleges was shown next. A dignified woman was addressing a large class of boys and girls.

"Study carefully Gauss's Equation for next time," she said, "and find out from the encyclopedia and other sources all you can about Gauss—who he was, and what he did. The class is dismissed."

"Gee, she makes us study," said one of the boys as the class went out of the room; "but we sure do learn something from her."

"Isn't she a graduate of a university?" asked one of the girls.

"Yes," said the boy. "I looked up in the college catalog. Here it is now—Prof. N. A. Roof was graduated from Lenoir College in '21, from the State University in '27. She has been here about three years."

"I heard the president tell one of the new professors here that she had built up the Math Department," said one of the students.

At this juncture the picture disappeared, to be followed by another interesting one. Out of the luxuriant office of a manufacturing plant came a well-dressed, dignified man, who hastily took his seat in a "flivver" which stood on the curb and drove away.

"Who is that man?" asked the new owner of a drug store of one of his customers.

"Why that is Mr. G. B. Coon, a captain of industry," said the customer. "He is one of the richest men in the State. He is the owner of five great manufacturing plants."

"He has bettered the conditions of the working class of people here," said another customer who had overheard the conversation.

"Why, what has he done?" asked the newcomer.

"If you had known the mill districts before he came here you would scarcely recognize them as the same ones. He has had comfortable homes erected for his help. He pays them living wages, and is always doing something to make their work exceedingly pleasant and attractive," continued the customer.

"He holds a dignified place in the industrial world," said another customer. "He is interviewed by men from all over the State to get his methods of dealing with his workers. He never has a strike or any trouble with the workmen."

This picture sinks into darkness. But a new and striking one appears. A dark-eyed girl was seated on a bench under the spreading boughs of a cherry tree. She was surrounded by about twenty little children.

"Tell us a story," suggested one of the little tots as she climbed upon the lap of her beloved teacher from across the ocean.

"What shall it be?" asked the teacher.

"About Jesus," quickly chimed all the little voices.

Then she simply and sweetly told the old, old story of Jesus and Him crucified to the eager group around her. This was not the first time the children had heard the sweet story, but they always wanted it repeated.

"We love you," said the little tot on the teacher's lap as she threw her arms around her neck. Then she jumped down, and they all ran away to play with the cherry blossoms.

"Miss Roof," called a young girl from the nearby cottage, "don't you put a slice of onion into this tomato soup?"

Then the young woman smiled at the girl in the door. She went into the cottage, and explained to the class of bright girls how to season soups.

"That's Miss Edna Roof, my young helper from America," said the missionary who was passing, to a tired woman who had witnessed the scene from the garden fence.

"Go in," said the missionary, "and she will teach you how to cook American food."

"Oh, if I only may!" said the woman.

"Why, certainly," said the missionary. "She has taught many girls here how to cook and to make their homes better. She scatters sunshine and happiness wherever she goes." At this instant the picture faded as the woman went up to the house.

The next picture showed the inside of a large scientific laboratory in Boston. A man was seated at a desk engaged in some sort of calculations.

"Mr. Deaton," said one of the workers in the room, "what do you want us to do with the new supplies which have just arrived?"

"Bring them up here, open them, and put them in that storeroom on the right. Finish that work this afternoon, and then you may go," he commanded.

He hurried down the street to his own beautiful home several blocks away.

"Dear," said he, to his pretty little wife as he entered. "Have you forgotten about the reception tonight?"

"You know I could not forget it when it is for my husband, the scientific star of the twentieth century," replied his wife.

"Now, Kate, it is not as great as that," he remonstrated.

"Indeed it is," she said; "the scientists of the country are recognizing you as their leader, and you know they come to you for advice."

"Dearest," he said, kissing her; "you are just as great as I, and a thousand times more beautiful."

"Oh," she said, sweetly; "that is because I am your wife."

The next picture showed the scene of the scientific reception. It was a grand affair. Many noteworthy people were there.

"Is Mr. Deaton married?" asked a woman who was seemingly interested.

"Yes," was the reply. "That woman there with him is his wife. They were graduated from the same college. She was a Miss Townsan, from his native State."

HAWAIIAN

This picture disappears, and a cozy room of a little bungalow fitted up as an office was shown next. Flowers were growing near the window, and on the table was a vase of red rosebuds. A Lenoir College pennant hung on the wall. At the desk sat a little woman gazing out of the window, past the blooming apple trees. Her large, sad eyes were fixed on a butterfly, but she did not see it. Before her lay the pages of a manuscript. Suddenly she turned around in her chair and gathered up the loose sheets.

"Oh," she sighed, "this represents my life. I have given my best to the world to accept or reject. The experience of writing this book has affected me like Hawaiian music. It was beautiful, but with a sad, longing beauty."

Rose suddenly noticed on the door of the office in small letters—L. Fay Roof, Novelist.

"Why," said Rose, "I have read some of her books, and now she has written her masterpiece."

The next picture showed a large church, just after the morning service. The congregation was coming out.

"I just love our minister's wife," said one woman to another.

"Why I think everybody does. She is very kindly disposed," said another. "She seems to know the right thing to say or do at the right time."

"Yes, and have you been to the parsonage since they have been there?" asked one of the women.

"No, I have not," she answered.

"Well, she has everything arranged so wonderfully. Her flower garden is beautiful. Her home is a real home."

"Who was this adorable woman before she was married?" asked one of the women.

"Her name was Kathryn Wannemacher. She is a worthy product of Lenoir College."

Just then the pastor and his wife came out of the church, and the picture faded.

The next picture showed the spacious auditorium of a high school in North Carolina. There were assembled all the County School Boards of the State.

"Has Superintendent Coon arrived yet?" asked one man.

"No, it is not time for him yet," answered his companion.

"What are his initials? I cannot remember them."

"D. W. B.," answered the first man. "He has some individual ideas about education. He is doing much to promote the cause of education."

"There he comes now," said the second man. A tall, broad-shouldered man entered the room. He began to address the assembly, and said: "Do you know that there is not a school in North Carolina which has any teacher who is not a college graduate? In the last two years ten one-teacher schools have been consolidated. Let us keep up the spirit, and make our school system what it should be."

Now the picture faded. Rose sat for a few minutes very quiet; but the last scene had come.

"There were but nine in that Class, the Class of 'Twenty-One,'" she said.

"I must follow them," she said, with a heart full of hope. Then she added, looking up to her Star, "I believe you will make my wish come true."

Having witnessed such wonderful scenes, she left that sacred spot and ran home. Down in the valley below came again the plaintive cry of the whippoorwill calling to its mate.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

LENOIR COLLEGE

HICKORY

E, the Senior Class of Lenoir College, being fully aware of the fact that our sojourn here is drawing to a close, and realizing that we must soon depart forever from these classic walls of learning; and being this once in full possession of sound minds and memories, do hereby make known and declare this to be our last Will and Testament.

Our vast estate and personal property, which Fate has so graciously bestowed upon us, we dispose of as follows, viz.:

Item I—We do will and bequeath to the faculty and Board of Trustees our sincere appreciation for the many noble efforts they have put forth in our behalf during the time we have been under their fostering care and protection.

Item II—To the Juniors we do will our "Senior Dignity" and "Senior P-r-i-v-i-l-e-g-e-s" (for a list of same consult each member of the faculty); and also our honored place on the front row in Chapel.

Item III—To the Sophomore Class we do bequeath our example and untiring zeal in the translation of German literature.

Item IV—To the Freshmen Class we will this timely motto: "Always be true to your Class and loyal to L. C."

Item V—To the Preparatory Department we do will small portions of Walter R. Schaff's unlimited English vocabulary, Naomi Roof's profound knowledge of Mathematics, and L. L. Deaton's supreme mastery of Science, with the hope that they may follow in their footsteps.

Our personal property and other possessions we dispose of and bequeath as follows, viz.:

Item I—I, Naomi Roof, do hereby will my great curiosity to Zelda Carpenter, with the request that she cherish and use it to the best advantage; my limitless talking capacity to Kathryn Fritz, trusting she will employ it as faithfully as I have; and last, but not least, I, after careful consideration, do bequeath to Lois Coon my position as teacher of Algebra in the Preparatory Department.

Item II—I, Walter R. Schaff, do hereby will and order that my unquenchable love for the ladies be given to my dear old friend and pal "Vick" G. Shuford; my magnificent scholastic learning I bequeath and devise to Edwin Yoder; and my profound ability in theological reflection I will to Cy E. Lutz, with the hope that they may acquire a small portion of the fame and honor which has been so beneficently bestowed upon me.

Item III—I, Kathryn Wannemacher, do hereby will my record of inevitable lateness to 8.30 classes to Ernest Deal, provided he will make all possible efforts to prevent its deterioration; and to Elsie Rhodes, I bequeath my pleasant disposition and affability, requesting that it continue to be used in bringing cheer and sunshine to those who are blue.

Item IV—I, George B. Coon, do will my carefree ways and unfailing record of always getting caught when disobeying rules, to my friend K. C. Garrison, hoping that he may escape occasionally. Also my ability to keep a lady friend under my sway, I bequeath to Victor G. Shuford.

Item V—I, Lloyd L. Deaton, do hereby will and bequeath my great popularity together with a dozen or two of the various offices which I have held to my worthy friend E. R. Lineberger, feeling that he is the man to take my place; to Walter Abernethy, I do bequeath my unusual interest in the Library and all connected therewith, together with an essay on "Egotism," which I hope will mean as much to him as it has to me.

Item VI—I, Kate Townsan, do will and bequeath my ability as Assistant Librarian to Miss Miller, hoping that she can use same in training my successor; I request that my power of alienating the affections of a certain young man from a certain young lady (Columbia) be given to Ellen Peterson, and I hope she will use this art as tactfully and successfully as I have.

Item VII—I, Fay Roof, do order that my winning ways and smiles, together with the merry twinkle of my blue eyes, be divided equally between Dewey Zipperer and Grover Bush; also I bequeath my serious outlook upon life to Evelyn Bickley, with the hope that she break no one's heart on account of it.

Item VIII—I, Barron Coon, do hereby will my poetic talent to P. W. Deaton, with the request that he employ same in the production of love sonnets; my moods and tenses, together with a vast amount of advice on "How to Keep a Girl at Least Two Weeks," I do bequeath to J. D. Tickle.

Item IX—I, Edna Roof, do hereby will and bequeath my quiet and reserved manners to Pauline Cauble; also I request that my unusual ability in attracting young men be bestowed upon Clara Sullivan, provided she faithfully promises to do all in her power to keep the trust.

Item X—We, the Roof Girls, do hereby bequeath to Russell Sigmon, Lethco Bumgarner, and Christine Sigmon our share in the window at the foot of the Library, provided they share it with at least twenty other town students.

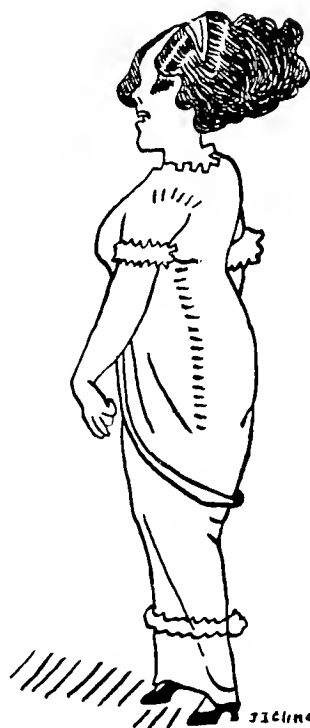

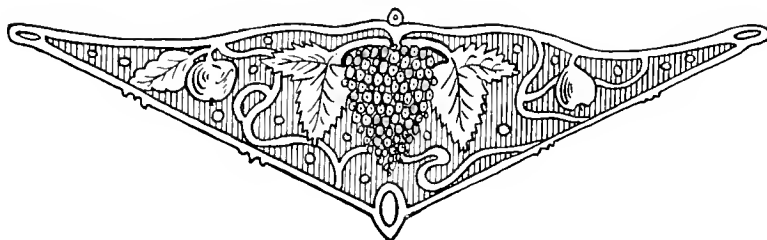

Item XI—We, the Senior Class, do hereby, individually and collectively, will and bequeath to any person or group of persons who happens to be interested enough in starting a Museum for the edification of both present and future students, the following, namely: Schaff's old pipe and cigar butts, Naomi Roof's time-honored gray coat with black buttons, Deaton's dear old gray hat and red sweater, George Coon's Library of German Interlinears, Edna Roof's faithful and aged umbrella, Kathryn Wannemacher's friendly, red crocheted cap, Kate Townsan's mirror and accessories, and lastly, but not least, Fay's highly prized collection of Physics test papers.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we, the Senior Class of Lenoir College, to this Last Will and Testament have subscribed our names and fixed our seals, this, the first day of March, Nineteen Hundred Twenty-One.

WALTER E. ABERNETHY. Hickory, N. C.

"AB" is the good old pal of the Class. He is a man of firm convictions and pronounced intellectual ability. He is noted for the production of argument—a rare ability. He is interested in all college activities. None surpasses him in scholarship. He intends to study medicine.

WILLIAM J. BOGER, JR. Monroe, N. C.

"BILL" entered our class as a Freshman from Monroe High School. He has made his mark in the classroom as well as on the athletic field. He is very popular with all the boys. He has not chosen his life's profession. A promising future awaits him, we believe.

ZELDA CARPENTERCrouse, N. C.

ZELDA is a graduate of Crouse High School. She is quite winning in her ways, and has a host of friends. Her business ability, coupled with her inclinations for athletics, is very commendable. She is consistent, loyal, and punctual in all her work. We wish her well in whatever she may do in life.

LOIS COON Lincolnton, N. C.

LOIS came from the Crouse High School—a worthy product. She has a personality that cannot be evaded. Her life is beautifully characterized by firmness of conviction, loyalty in service, and faithfulness in duty.

MAMIE COSTNERMaiden, N. C.

MAMIE has a strong character, modest in behavior and faithful to her friends. She is a good student. She has splendid talent as a student both in Music and Voice. Her ideal is a cozy little cottage ruled over by an unselfish queen. She has a promising future.

ALLENE CROMERHickory, N. C.

ALLENE is a very modest young lady, and does the things that are right regardless of the cost. She does not have an aptitude for Math., yet she is successful. Whatever course she pursues in life, we know she will succeed.

ERNEST DEALHickory, N. C.

"SLIM" is superior to the whole Class "in length." We are proud of him, as he is our only "Hickory Nut." He is a thoro student, and is intensely interested in all college activities. His intellectual ability is unsurpassed by any member of the Class. He is esteemed and honored both by faculty and students. He has not yet chosen his profession.

RUTH DELLINGER...Cherryville, N. C.

RUTH entered the regular Freshman Class in '18, having graduated from Cherryville High School the preceding spring. She has a very enviable trait—that of making friends and retaining them. She is specializing in Voice and Piano. Her ability in this direction is very pronounced. Our Class is proud to lay claim to such a personality.

KARL C. GARRISON...Lincolnton, N. C.

"CASEY" is an exceptionally good student. He takes great interest in practical things of life. His mind is always keen and on the alert. His common sense, combined with his keen sense of intellectual perception, makes him a real man. In everything he is practical; in most things he is successful.

ERNEST R. LINEBERGER....Dallas, N. C.

ERNEST came to us at the beginning of the second semester, a member of the Class of 'Nineteen. We are glad to welcome him in our Class. We admire his firmness, practical ability, as well as his scholarship and his Class loyalty. He has offered himself for the service of the Church in whatever capacity he can serve best.

DAVID CALVIN MOSTELLER

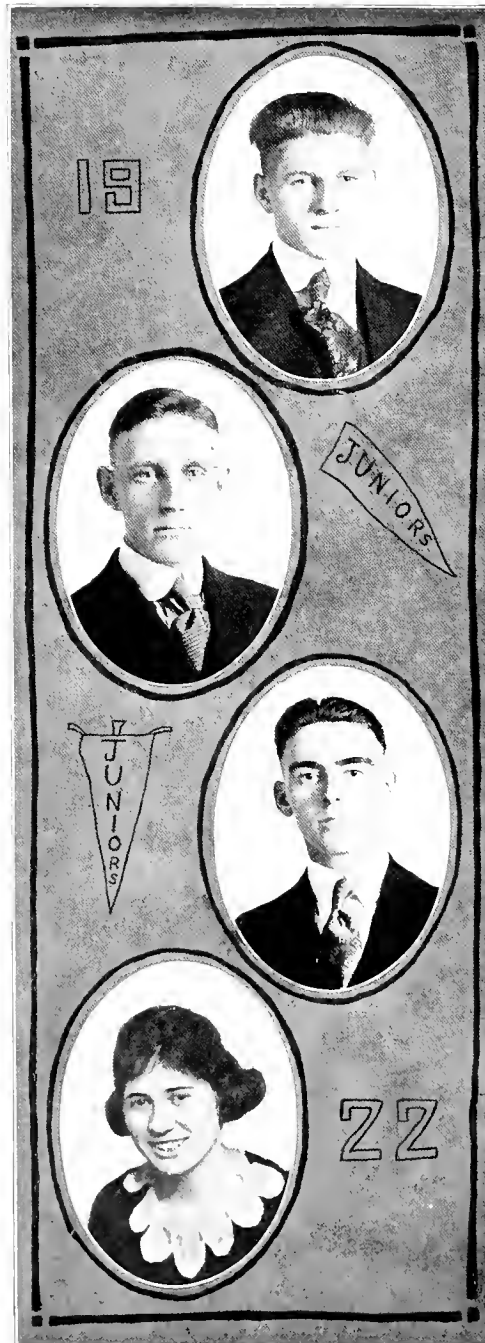

Lincolnton, N. C.

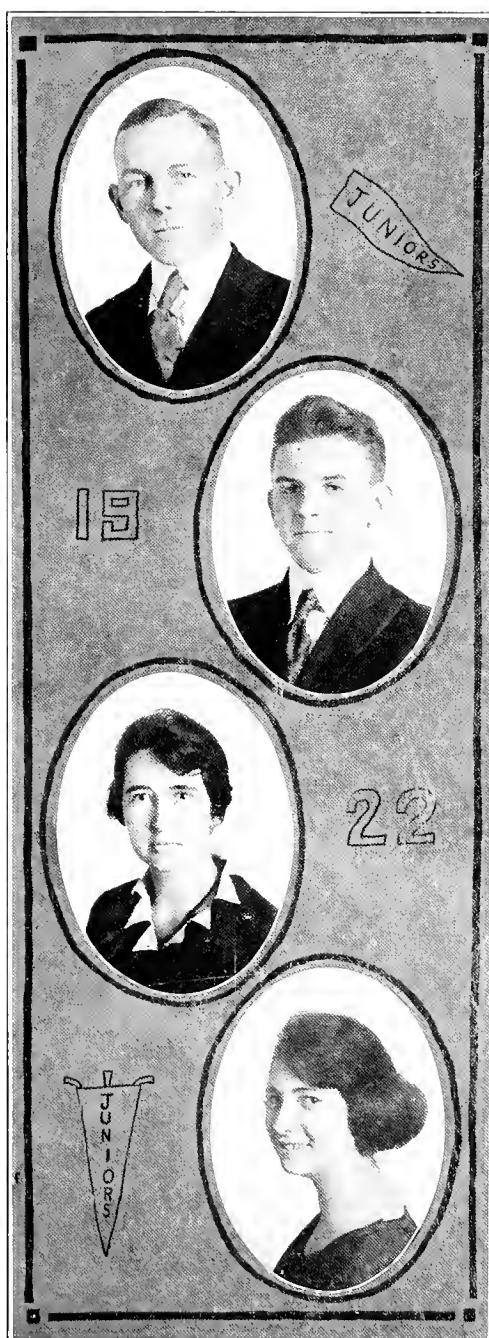

"DAVE" is an enthusiastic worker in all lines of college activities. He is loyal to his teachers, to his classmates, and to the "Money Box" of the athletic association. He is consistent in all his work, and thinks it is "sinful" to cut classes. He has not decided just what he will do in life.

ELSIE RHODES.....Lincolnton, N. C.

ELSIE joined our Class in the Sophomore year—'19. She is a graduate of Lincolnton High School, and entered the Freshman Class in '17. She remained at home in the year '18, but the call of old Lenoir constrained her to return in the fall of '19. ELSIE is one of the best workers in our Class—bubbling over with enthusiasm, and ready to serve in any capacity that will lead to a greater Lenoir.

HUGH J. RHYNE.....Dallas, N. C.

HUGH entered our Class in the fall of '18, a graduate of the Dallas High School. He is one of the scholars who has caused our Class to be ranked as the best during the years we have been here. He has not decided what he will do, but we are sure he will be successful in whatever he may choose to do.

DORUS PAUL RUDISILL

Cherryville, N. C.

"DUCK" has a personality that wins the good will of everybody. He has true college spirit. He is a star in all athletics. He has won the admiration of both student-body and faculty, and when he is gone it can be rightly said: "'DUCK' we miss you."

CLARA SULLIVAN.....Crouse, N. C.

CLARA came to us from the Crouse High School when we were Freshmen. She was out of College in '17 and '18. She is very conscientious and thoro in all her work—never satisfied with a half-completed task. She finds her profoundest pleasure in helping others. She is preparing herself to be a medical missionary in the foreign field. With her go our best wishes.

IDELETTE SPANN....Spartanburg, S. C.

"IDLET" is a very talented young woman. Her conduct is very worthy—she is the most popular member of our Class. Her ability as a student is very pronounced. She is always optimistic, and her cheerfulness is contagious.

EUBERT VANCE SEITZ....Newton, N. C.

"BABE" is the athlete among the boys of our Class. He has won quite a few honors on the basket-ball court and the baseball field. He is a good student, and has a bright future before him. He has not as yet chosen his life's work.

EDWIN MOSES YODER....Hickory, N. C.

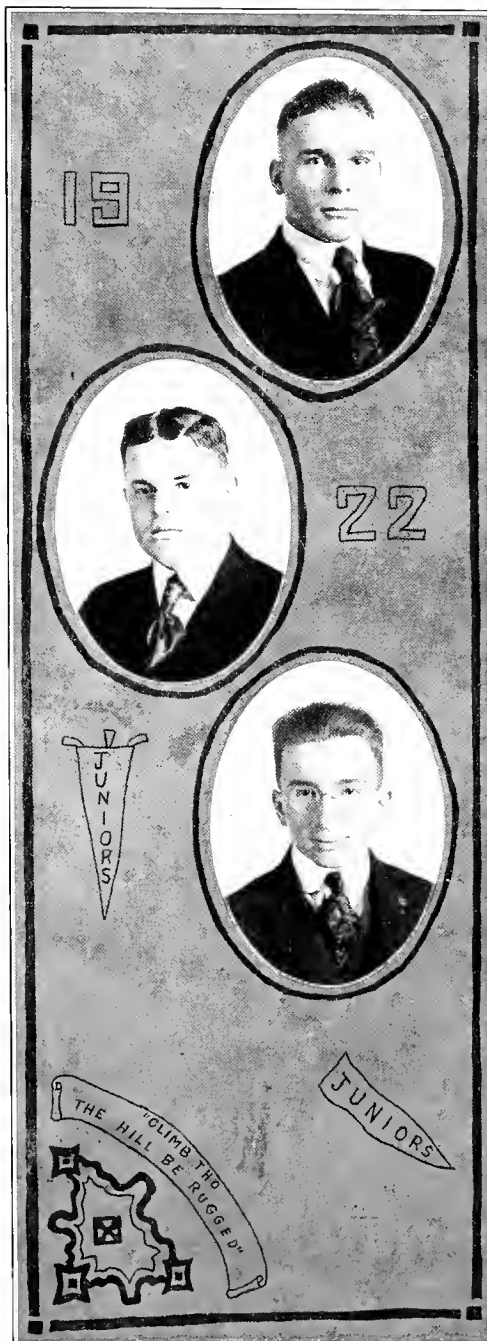

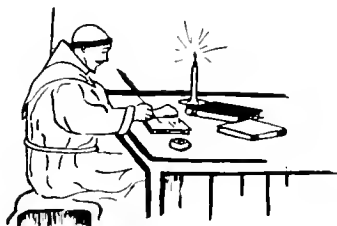

"Ed" is one of those fortunate individuals who always looks on the bright side of life. He likes to attend Society, and argue his side of the question. He is contemplating the field of medicine. We wish him success.

DEWEY WILLIAM ZIPPERER

Marlow, Ga.

"Zip" is loyal to his Class, Society, and College. Thru his courteous manners and cheerful disposition, he has won many friends. Altho he is too modest to placard the fact, yet few surpass him in scholarship. He is interested in science, but he has not chosen his profession.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

FOR years we had heard of the fame of Lenoir College. Each story was so full of the pleasures and advantages derived from it that the height of our ambition was to taste of these things.

It was in the fall of 1918 that we began our quest for knowledge. It was rather an unfortunate year for the Freshmen. Everything was in a tumult. But it must be remembered that at this time our country was in war with Germany. A great many of our best men were "Over There" at this time, and the greater part of the young men were being trained to "beat the Kaiser." Is it any wonder then that we often felt sadly neglected? Everybody seemed to think of nothing but the S. A. T. C. Finally the armistice was signed, and things grew brighter. As Freshmen, we were not unlike all others in college history—we were green in the true sense of the word. But such would not be the case always. We lived with the hope of being Sophomores some day.

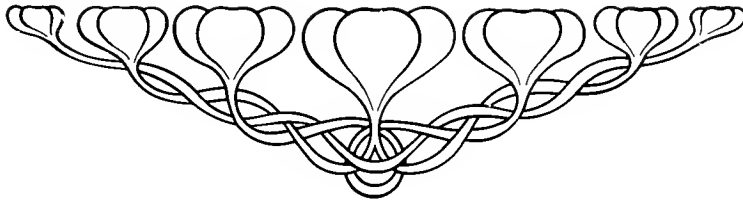

In the fall of '19, our dream was fully realized, altho our number was greatly diminished. But in spite of that difficulty we kept up spirit. Four students of the Class of 1921 joined us.

When resuming our school activities in the following year, we could hardly believe that we were really and truly Juniors. With the addition of two new members our Class numbers nineteen, and each one is a loyal and conscientious student. We are well represented in the college activities, especially in athletics. Not all of us have yet determined our life's work, but we move on with the following words before us: "Climb, tho the hill be rugged."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

WO years ago we came to Lenoir College in quest of further knowledge. At first we were quite excited, but soon we overcame that. As is characteristic of all Freshmen, we were green and fresh; and moreover we were ignorant of the fact. During the first few nights the Sophs visited us and frightened us very much. Soon we become reconciled, and everything went on smoothly. Soon we organized and began real work, with "Thru perserverance we win" as our slogan.

In the fall of 1920 we became Sophomores. It was our duty to control the Freshies. We had very little trouble with them.

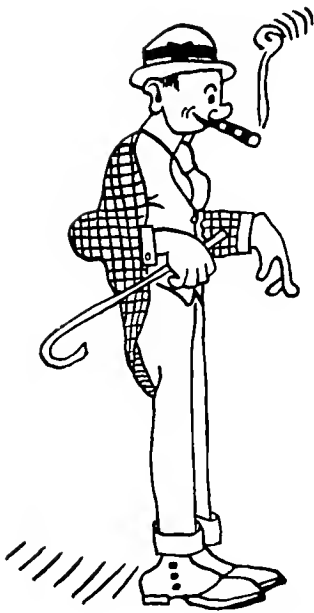

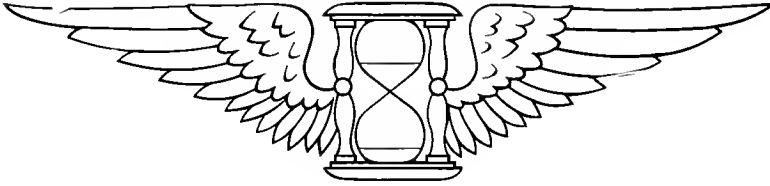

The Class of 1923 have demonstrated their attainments in many ways. Only a few of them can be mentioned here. In athletics we have always been well represented. Quite a number of us are members of the Glee Club, and one of our members heads the organization. Our Class is not lacking in scholarship. Each member can be relied upon—always found where the fight is the thickest. Our Class is one of action—always optimistic.

Living up to the standard of our motto—"Thru perserverance we win"—we hope to plant our colors, the old purple and gold, high. Not only shall we do this while in college, but also when we enter the great arena of life's responsibilities.

FRESHMAN CLASS

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

LONG before the opening of the fall term of 1920, we had been looking forward to the day which would be the beginning of a new life for us. Were we not to be collegians instead of school boys and girls, students instead of pupils?

September 7, 1921, seventy students were enrolled in the Freshman Class. We were truly Freshmen, and by that we mean "fresh" and "green"—but that helped the looks of the campus. Of course we were teased, and called "rats"—especially by the insinuating Sophomores—but that did not hurt us so much. Some day we will be Sophomores, too. After we proved to them that we were seeking knowledge, they gave us our due respect.

Our first Class meeting was called early in the fall, and the class officers were elected. From the very beginning, each member manifested Class spirit and loyalty.

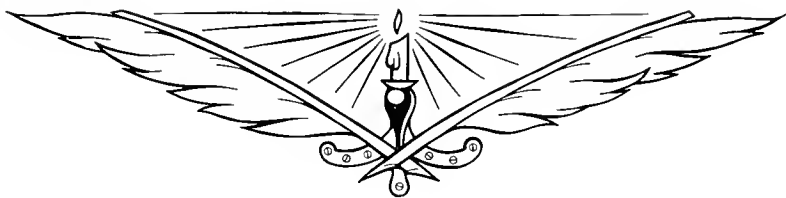

We are well represented in athletics—some of our members represented the college in tennis, basket-ball, and baseball. We are very proud of our basket-ball girls. They have made a splendid record for the college.

We feel confident that the Faculty is proud of us, because they have been so kind to us. We are proud of our Class, in the fact that it is the largest in the history of the College. We are on the first step of the ladder which leads to success, and we are determined to reach the top. We welcome anyone who wishes to join our Class next year, and hope that most of our number will return next year.

BASKET-BALL SQUAD

D. P. RUDISILL, Forward. Least, but not last, he has proved himself a good basket-ball player. His speed, ducking, and side-stepping with which he evades his larger opponents is almost amazing. Witty, courageous, and optimistic, he is a great encouragement to the team.

J. ROSS GILBERT, Guard. Altho ROSS is a new man, he has made quite a good record for the team. He has the makings of an athlete, and does not fail to make a vivid demonstration of it. His quickness and ease of movement on the court distinguishes him very admirably. He is good material for the Varsity next year.

JAY BOGGS, Forward. Tho small in stature, JAY is an excellent athlete. He has saved the team in many a tight place. He is hard to beat. He is one of the fastest men on the team. He uses his head, and is forever crying, "Let's go, Gang."

E. V. SEITZ, Forward. Besides being manager of the team, "BABE" played a splendid role thruout the season. He is a hard worker, an accurate shot, and a good floor man. It was always his luck to fight the hardest guard of the opposition, but in spite of that he heads the team in scoring. He will be one of the main-springs of next year's squad.

PAUL H. BEAM, Guard. BEAM is a fine guard—a product of the Cherryville High School who has made good from the start. Altho this is his first year, he made the team easily. He has played steady ball, and is a most reliable man. We are expecting great things from him next year.

JULIUS D. TICKLE, Center. "TICK," as he is called by his fellow-players, has it on them all. With height and long arms he takes the "tip" from his opponents. On him the whole team depends. He shoots, guards, and runs the court with magic ease. He is a Sophomore, and is good for two more seasons.

W. J. BOGER, JR., Guard. "BILL" is one of the peppiest guards Lenoir has ever had. Altho he is small, weighing but 149 pounds, he makes up for it in speed, alertness, and cool-headedness. He plays a man twice his size, and does it well, and cages the basket occasionally for pastime. His popularity among the students is due to his ability as an athlete as well as a student.

REVIEW OF SEASON

LENOIR was fortunate to secure M. J. W. Guy for coach this year. He is an old and thoroly experienced man in basket-ball technique, having coached several teams while serving in the A. E. F. in France.

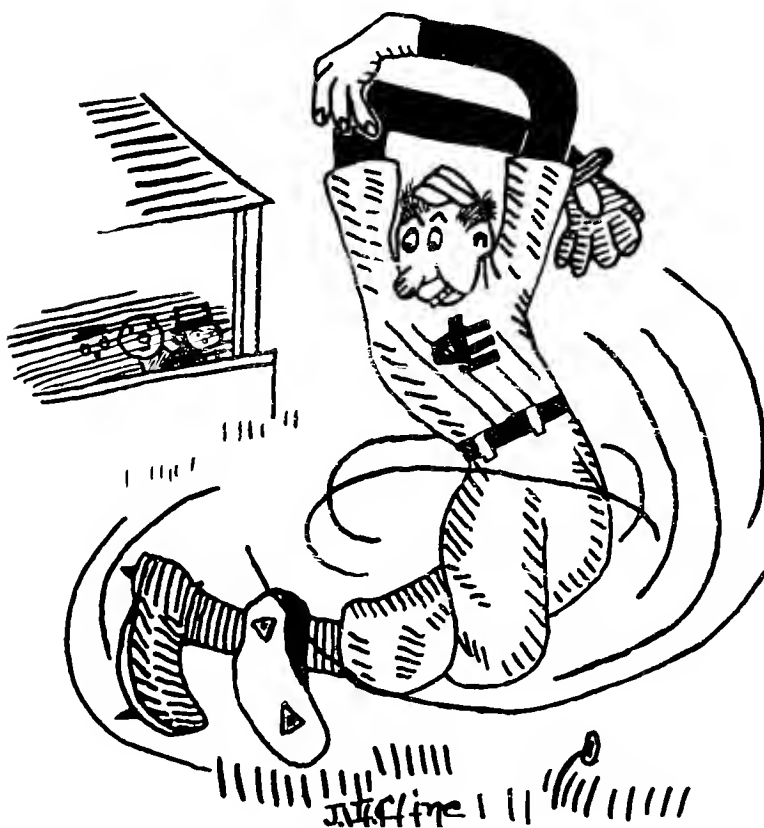

At the beginning of the season, the team was handicapped for guards. Boger was the only old man who returned, and who served as utility last year. As for the other positions, the outlook was very favorable. Rudisill, Seitz, and Boggs, all fighting for the positions as forwards, gave evidence that some real work would begin. Smith came in to entertain Tickle at center, and both played steady ball thru the entire season. Beam and Gilbert were practically new men, but manifested much pep and determination in that they played a splendid defensive game. The old fighting spirit was manifested in all the practice.

The season opened by slipping one over Rutherford, 26 to 6. Then in a few days we gave Oak Ridge a nice ride, 34 to 29. On the following night, the same team came back at us with the score of 44 to 27. This event was quite a stimulus to our team. Next in order we set Rutherford down again, 35 to 12. Our next triumph was over the N. C. D. and D., 62 to 12. In January, the team took its annual Eastern trip. Results were not as good as they might have been. On this trip four games were lost: Wake Forest, Elon, Guilford, and Oak Ridge.

As a whole, the basket-ball season was really a successful one. The team won approximately fifty per cent. of the games played. With the fine material for the next season, we hope to accomplish many big things.

BASEBALL SQUAD

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

THE outlook for baseball when school opened has turned out to be a reality. Of the number of varsity men we had last year, seven came back.

The college was very fortunate in securing Mr. Tom M. Murchison, a Cleveland American pitcher, for coach. He has meant much to the team. His very appearance on the field is an inspiration to the boys, and his coaching is of a pronounced caliber.

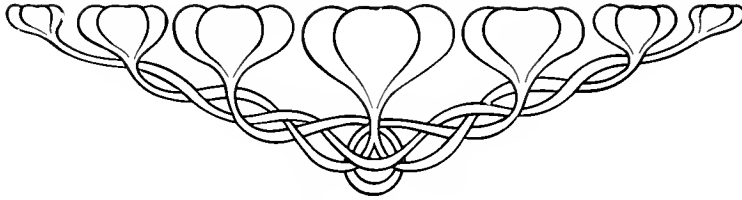

After several weeks of practice, we played some of the town teams. In these the team worked quite well. On March 21, the work began, when the team went to Rutherford and gave them the little end of a 7 to 1 score. The Easter Monday game with Catawba was lost by a 4 to 0 score. Our boys got eleven clean hits off of Gibson, but were unable to score. Then Rutherford and State School for Deaf and Dumb came for games. We won these games.

On the following week we took our eastern trip. On this trip we played the following schools: Mount Pleasant, Guilford, and Elon. We won the first game by a 5 to 1 score; but the other two were lost.

Upon our return we found things in fine trim for the return game with Catawba. They reported April 9, and took their usual hitting and fielding, but when the umpire called "play ball," Catawba went home. They were unwilling for us to play Murchison; while at the same time they played Coach Adams. Our coach told them that we would play with both coaches in the game, or with neither. This seemed to be fair enough. But they seemed to disregard all fairness.

Since the Catawba event we have won a host of other games. Elon was the first. Benfield was the sensation of the game. Elon got only six hits, and the score stood 5 to 4. Then came Mars Hill, the team that has been so far invincible. We also gave them the little end of the bargain. Next came Liberty-Piedmont. We won this game thru the wisdom of Painter, the pitcher, 8 to 0. We also defeated St. Mary's by a score of 14 to 4. The last game played was with Mount Pleasant, the score being 3 to 2. The season is not over yet; and with the present line-up we should win all the remaining games.

SEPTEMBER

SEPTEMBER 8—Freshmen. Freshmen everywhere, and not a Senior to be seen! The Professors are all on the stage—some make speeches, others do not. Professor Seegers has to put on his glasses.

- 9—Dr. Longaker sends Naomi first to the Sub-fresh department; since she could not enter there, she is sent to the kindergarten.
- 10—Reception on the lawn at St. Andrew's Church. Seniors are all mistaken for Freshmen. Miss Wessell gives a reading.
- 11—Schedule is changed.
- 12—Dr. Peery delivers a special sermon to the students.
- 13—Everyone is preparing for the winter's work.
- 14—All classes have been met today. All nine Seniors together only on Bible.
- 15—Seniors get lost—cannot find Dr. Longaker's room.
- 16—Senior girls all sad—Physics is not what it is said to be.
- 17—Oh, who comes? The Jap. Everyone stared at him. He makes a talk in chapel in real Japanese.
- 18—Freshmen are all scared since they are told that they must not miss chapel exercises nor classes.
- 19—Just a Sunday in which some go to church; others sleep in order to rest up over the great excitement of the last weeks.
- 20—Some of the girls at Oakview wonder how they can endure such Mondays.
- 21—School closes at eleven o'clock. The show is on. Everyone is off to see the monkeys.
- 22—Horrors, Edna finds that she needs another credit in order to graduate.
- 23—Everything goes all right in Physics Lab.
- 24—Naomi wins impromptu contest in Society—the same old subject—"Barbecues."
- 25—Senior class meeting. Everyone has his own way about how things should be carried on.
- 26—Unusual happening—Barron seen at church.
- 27—Faculty Recital. The chief feature was Barron and his girl.
- 28—New students enter.
- 29—HACAWA staff is elected. Just enough offices for every Senior to get one.
- 30—Gloomy day. The girls cry on Lab.

OCTOBER

OCTOBER 1—Fay, the great expressionist of the College—she uses the classical works of Scott like "Lochinvar," and she uses the "Piecemeal activity method."

- 2—Kathryn is worse. She is almost blind, for she says that she cannot see Naomi's beauty.
- 3—On the previous Sunday all members of the Sunday School were asked to

- bring one on the following Sunday. George brings Mamie, "Casey" brings Alliene, "Babe" brings Mildred.
- 4—Nothing doing.
- 5—Zelda gives a free performance on Physics. Her head is heavy, and not in equilibrium.
- 6—Deaton has changed his tie.
- 7—Oh, joy! We went to the Fair this afternoon. All the beasts and birds were there. Kate and Deaton rode the whip. Barron wins a doll. Ask Kate about her fortune.
- 8—Dr. Peery made an address on "True Leadership." Edquist yawns in the middle of the second part.
- 9—Professor Lugn wears his becoming cap.
- 10—Kathryn fell down while with her fellow—her glasses the cause.
- 11—Fifteen girls go up town to shop.
- 12—Everything calm and quiet. Drs. R. B. and J. C. Peery and Rev. Sox leave for Synod at Lincolnton.
- 13—Chrestonians and Eumeneans decide to get pennants, flags, and a Society song. Pete Deaton introduced the motion to get uniforms.
- 14—No Physics today—Professor Lugn went to an entertainment last night.
- 15—Today is the centennial of our Synod.
- 16—Dr. Cline and Professor Fox make addresses in Chapel.
- 17—Dr. Peery leaves for Washington, to attend the meeting of the United Lutheran Church.
- 18—Zipp spends the day in reading the funny paper.
- 19—Nothing unusual—except Dr. Longaker has charge of affairs—Dr. Peery is away.
- 20—Seniors have their pictures made.
- 21—School suspended until 1.15—Republican candidates pass thru.
- 22—Boat-riding, mountain-climbing, sight-seeing—a great feasting, swinging, a chat in the twilight, returning in the moonlight—What is it? The Senior picnic.
- 23—To the Seniors: "How do you feel?" George and Barron went home last night. Vick Shuford goes to Morganton.
- 25—Mrs. Keller goes with the girls on a picnic to Blowing Rock.
- 26—Lenoir plays Appalachian Training School. Score: 37 to 4. Dr. Longaker pays Dr. Rein's way to the game.
- 27—Order placed for Senior rings. The boys believe that "all that glitters is gold."
- 28—Kate gives Deaton a flower. Seniors shoot crap.
- 29—Everybody has a good German lesson.
- 30—The great Hallowe'en party: The Soph. stunt was the "negro preaching." Wynne Boliek was preacher, and Tickle was deacon. The Junior stunt was a mock wedding—Uncle Sam weds the League of Nations. The Sophs. won the laurels.
- 31—Fetzer goes to see Olivia. In a fit of infatuation, Lib falls off the piano stool. He picks her up, and giggles. "Oh, Boy; you are a possibility," she said.

NOVEMBER

- NOVEMBER 1—Kate wishes there were no Mondays in the week. We know why!
- 2—Bad German lesson—boys are going to the polls—to vote.

- 3—Most of the boys are blue—tests begin.
- 4—Economics test. Miller's store was given as an example of a single enterpriser.
- 5—Tests all day.
- 6—Basket-ball game with Boone canceled—boys disappointed.
- 8—Picnic at Blowing Rock. Did anybody get hurt? Where were Elsie's shoes?
- 9—A bunch of cripples—the aftermath of the picnic.
- 10—Naomi loses her pen—a reward offered.
- 11—Armistice Day—a special program rendered.
- 12—Kate and Deaton fall out over "Egotism."
- 13—Kate and Deaton make up. Peace reigns again.
- 14—Schaff goes to New Hope Chapel to conduct Sunday School. A very important date in the history of his life.
- 15—Mr. Skibinsky gives a recital in college auditorium.
- 16—The rainiest and coldest day. Schaff worried. Kathryn is away.
- 17—Nothing doing.
- 18—Zelda hunts for the square, to see if Deal is a "square deal."
- 19—Mr. Chambers, the Redpath representative, entertains us.
- 20—Faculty decides to dismiss school December 18.
- 21—Large attendance at Luther League—Harward is leader.
- 22—Hair-drying day at Oakview.
- 23—Barron asks Dr. Rein if New Year proposals are valid.
- 24—Weinie Roast is given on the campus by the Societies.
- 25—Holiday.
- 26—Schaff goes home. Kat feels blue. Maude in tears.
- 27—Drs. Longaker and Kuehner return from Asheville.
- 28—Dr. Fritz elected Superintendent of Sunday School.
- 29—Professor Lugn asks for Physics Notes.
- 30—Lyceum tonight—boys begin to borrow money to accommodate their better half.

DECEMBER

- DECEMBER 1—Christmas is coming.
- 2—Kat and Naomi weigh on balance scales.
- 3—Blue Friday.
- 4—Dr. Fritz gives his annual chapel address—"The Value of Math."
- 5—Schaff goes to the Reformed Church. Quite interested.
- 6—Private pictures made for the HACAHA.
- 7—An epidemic of measles on the campus.
- 8—Students catch the Christmas spirit.
- 9—Seniors decide to buy presents.
- 10—Basket-ball game with Queen's in Charlotte.
- 11—Basket-ball game with Oak Ridge.
- 12—New Lenoirian Staff elected.
- 13—Nothing important.
- 14—The birthday of one of the Seniors.
- 15—Club Pictures are finished.
- 16—Recital given by Special Students.

17—Teachers of Oakview entertained by the girls.

18—Seniors get their class rings.

19—School closes for Christmas holidays.

JANUARY

JANUARY 4—Everybody happy. School opens. Schaff angry. Norris sees Maude.

5—A new student—Mr. Lineberger.

6—Platt alienates Ethel's affections. Pete despondent.

7—Barron discusses the subject of "Love at First Sight."

8—Schaff gets a letter from a Freshman. George knows his Education lesson.

9—All Seniors at Church except Schaff and George. Why?

10—First snowfall of the year.

11—Dr. Peery returns from New York. Kat gets to Class late.

12—Norris visits the college.

13—Amick rushed with work—no time to sport.

14—The first general freeze of the year—"Roofs" are leaking.

15—Heroine in the Eumenean Society—Frances Porter. Schaff wears a long face.

16—Students preparing for tests.

17—Exams! Exams! Some pass; some flunk.

18—Physics exam.—Lugn very exacting. Kate's heart is broken to atoms.

19—Basket-ball game with Durham Y. W. C. A.

20—Basket-ball game with Rutherford College.

21—Plenty of life in some Senior's Bible paper.

22—Vick knocked one spoke out of his wheel.

23—Deaton and Abby very busy—working on Sunday.

24—Abby still clinging to Chemistry experiment. Lyceum Number.

25—Seniors blue—heard from Physics. Barron and Schaff discuss German.

26—The ground is covered with a deep snow.

27—Miss Bailey, from Crossnore. speaks to students and faculty.

28—Dr. Voigt pays the college a visit.

29—Miss Miller requests that no one break in on her thoughts. Senior boys have trouble in the Library.

30—Victor Shuford goes to Morganton to get a patent. Kat and Buff have a fuss. Kat wins.

31—Basket-ball boys off on their Eastern trip. Benfield has supremacy at Oakview.

FEBRUARY

FEBRUARY 1—Junior-Freshmen basket-ball game. Score: 22 to 11.

2—Snow again. George imparts Biblical knowledge.

3—Zelda says that it is impossible to outrun one's shadow.

4—Barron, Naomi, and Kate test the ability of the other Seniors.

5—Basket-ball game with Charlotte Y. W. C. A., at Armory.

6—Bun Harward goes to Sunday School.

7—Basket-ball game with Elon College. Girls entertain the boys.

- 8—Dr. Rein asks Kate and Deaton if they "Parlez Vous" or "Sprechen Sie Deutsch."
- 9—Everything calm and tranquil except Schaff and Setzer.
- 10—Rev. Bradshaw addresses the student-body.
- 11—Miss Walborne has new interests. Who?
- 12—Sorry time at Oakview—Spann and Barnhardt leave for home.
- 13—Deaton gazes over the congregation.
- 14—Valentine Party at Highland. Everything spooky.
- 15—Seniors give tests in city schools.
- 16—Round table discussion in Chapel on Law and Order. Barron elaborates very intelligently on cigarettes.
